

Response to Editor

Thank you for taking the time to respond politely and constructively to the reviewers and to update your paper. I am very happy with the overall result. I will submit the paper to be published after a couple of small revisions.

We thank the editor for their comments on the revisions.

1. Please be consistent with the tense you use when describing the activity at the science exhibit on page 4. At present there is a mix of present and past tense. I would recommend that all the 4 points are placed in the past/past perfect tense, since everything you describe happened in the past.

We have changed the tense to be consistent using the editor's suggestion.

2. On line 108, please provide the full name for the BERA acronym.

We have expanded the acronym.

Once these changes are completed, the paper will proceed to the publishing phase. Thanks again for constructive review process.
