

Dear Editors,

Thank you very much for your positive response and for suggesting final modifications. We have tried to incorporate as many as possible, except those where we thought the change would not enhance the clarity of the manuscript. See the short explanations below.

We are pleased that our study is now in the position for publication. Thanks again for your help.

Kind regards,

Thomas Mölg, Jan Christoph Schubert, and co-authors

Data availability statement ... /// The website is currently the best place to access the data. We extended the statement to make things clearer.

Line 41: Please provide translation for the German term. /// The translation is already in the same sentence. We slightly changed the sentence to express this.

Line 61: High school students (please insert student age range ... /// Information is on the next page.

Line 85: Please give 2-3 examples of tree growth variables. /// This is detailed in Sect. 3.1; we moved the reference to Sect. 3.1 at the end of the sentence to clarify it.

Line 208: What do you mean by 'talking trees'? // It was explained before in lines 168-170.

Line 253: Where are these examples? Consider including them as supplemental materials. /// These examples changed depending on the time of the workshop. We modified the sentence to clarify the use of real-time data.

All other suggestions were considered and the respective text was clarified.
